

Social Science Faculty Development Series in Community Service Learning (CSL)

Learn about the benefits of CSL and how to design and facilitate a CSL course.

Introduction: Designing CSL Learning Objectives

Friday, November 9

11:30 am – 1:00 pm (lunch provided)

UCC210

Navigating CSL Logistics

Friday, November 23

11:30am – 1:00pm (lunch provided)

UCC210

CSL Reflection and Assessment

Friday, December 7

11:30am – 1:00pm (lunch provided)

UCC 210

By participating in this three-module series, faculty will be able to:

- ❖ Create academic and civic learning objectives for a project or placement-based CSL course
- ❖ Understand the process of designing and implementing a CSL course, including community partnerships, documentation, and risk management
- ❖ Understand the benefits of reflection as an integral component of CSL, and effectively design appropriate reflection activities and assignments
- ❖ Consider ways of assessing the impact of CSL on students' academic performance
- ❖ Work with CSL @ Western to propose a course for the 2013-14 academic year, or beyond

Please register on CareerCentral by November 2 (www.westerncareercentral.ca)

For staff and faculty, if you haven't registered for our new CareerCentral website, please go to the following website: <https://www.westerncareercentral.ca/facultystaff/facultystaffReg.htm> and provide the requested information. After you're finished, your account will be put on hold until it is approved (which should happen almost immediately).