

Call for Papers
1st Annual Doctoral Workshop in Applied Econometrics
Ryerson University
April 13, 2013

This one-day workshop aims to bring together doctoral students from across Southern Ontario to share their current research. Contributors will have the opportunity to present their research to a friendly audience from outside of their home departments, receive valuable feedback, practice their presentation skills ahead of the job market, and network with other students and faculty.

Submissions in all areas of both applied and theoretical econometrics are equally welcome. Prospective contributors are invited to submit papers by March 1, 2013 via email to: dwae@ryerson.ca

Additional information about the workshop is available at: <http://www.ryerson.ca/dwae/>

Organizers: Brennan Thompson (Ryerson), Min Seong Kim (Ryerson), Martin Burda (Toronto)