Registration:

You are responsible for ensuring you are registered in the correct courses. If you are not registered in this course, the Department will not release any of your marks until your registration is corrected. You may check your timetable by using the Login on the Student Services website at <https://student.uwo.ca>. If you notice a problem, please contact your home Faculty Academic Counsellor immediately.

The prerequisite for this course is Economics 2221A/B.

The antirequisite(s) for this course are Economics 2164A/B, Economics 2167A/B, Economics 3370A/B.

You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites, and that you have not taken any anti-requisite courses. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as a basis for appeal. If you are found to be ineligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. This decision cannot be appealed.

If you find that you do not have the course prerequisites, it is in your best interest to drop the course well before the end of the add/drop period. Your prompt attention to this matter will not only help protect your academic record, but will ensure that spaces become available for students who require the course in question for graduation.

Course Description:

We will study theoretical models that help understand the determinants of exchange rates, current account imbalances, and international mobility of capital flows. We will review and evaluate changes in global capital market integration over time. These models will be used to discuss global determinants of global interest rates, policy issues such as trade and debt policies, and how monetary policy decisions and structural reforms impact on the exchange rate.

Course Objectives:

The course offers a foundation to interpret salient features of global capital markets. The integration between theoretical models and data guides students through the process of how economics can be used to understand the real world.

Course Learning Outcomes:

By the end of this course, students will learn to understand the aggregate determinants of the trade balance, international capital flows, and key global asset prices such as the exchange rate and interest rate. This will require

- Use models of foreign exchange determination to explain currency fluctuations in the short and long run.
- Solving 2-period intertemporal models of current account determination in open economies and studying the effects of various shocks and government policies.
- Use models to guide the interpretation of data. The models studied in class will be used to identify the sources of aggregate fluctuations in open economies.
- Identify unsustainable external debt dynamics.

Textbook and Course Materials:

The required textbook for this course is Schmitt-Grohe, Uribe, and Woodford, “International Macroeconomics,” which is available in the bookstore. The textbook price is $106.75. The textbook will be complemented with lecture notes.

Students are welcome to purchase second-hand or earlier editions of this textbook.

Assessments and Grading:

The course will have four homework assignments, class quizzes, a midterm and a final exam. Homework assignments will be posted online and each one will be due one week after it is posted. Your assignment must be uploaded to owl before the deadline. You may discuss the problems and solutions with your classmates, but you must each write up your own individual assignments independently. Identical or essentially identical assignments will receive a grade of zero.

There will be weekly quizzes. Some will be assigned online, and some may be assigned in class. Quizzes will provide a first application of the material covered in the course or be used to motivate the introduction of concepts. They will only be solved in class, and no solution will be posted. The quiz scores and your class participation will determine your class participation grade. The two quizzes with the lowest grades will be removed when computing the final quiz score. There will be no credit for quizzes submitted after their deadline.

The midterm exam will be held during class time. Self-attestation is not allowed for the midterm. The midterm and final are not cumulative. The material for the exams consists of the topics covered in class, any assigned readings, and the material covered in the homework assignments. The exams will consist of 10-15 short questions. The format will range from multiple-choice, filling-the-blank, drawing and interpreting diagrams, to writing a short paragraph. The questions will test the understanding of concepts and economic models, how the studied models can be used to interpret news, public discussions, and data. The duration of the midterm and final will be 90 minutes.

There will be no other source of credits in the course.

The distribution of the marks is as follows:

Midterm	30%
Homework assignments	20%
Class participation	20%
Final	30%

Tentative exam dates:

Midterm: February 24th

Final exam: April 13th at 2pm on UCC 37.

The midterm and final exams will be conducted through the owl website. You must bring your laptop to the assigned classroom to take the exams.

Exams are open book. Students can consult the textbook, lecture notes, slides, and answer keys for homework and quizzes. However, students are forbidden from communicating with anyone other than an examination proctor or consulting any web page during exams. Students will need to use a calculator to assist them with numerical calculations.

Policies regarding late homework submissions.

- Late homework submissions without documentation and timely notification to the instructor will be subject to a late penalty of 20%/day.
- Late assessments with illness self-reports must be submitted within 24 hours of submission of the last illness self-report.

For other assignments, see the 'Please Note' section of the course outline:

PLEASE NOTE
DEPARTMENT & UNIVERSITY POLICIES FOR WINTER 2025

The University expects all students to take responsibility for their own Academic Programs. Students should also check their registration to ensure they are enrolled in the correct courses.

1. Guidelines, policies, and your academic rights and responsibilities are posted online in the current Western Academic Calendar at: <http://westerncalendar.uwo.ca>. Claiming that “you didn’t know what to do” is not an acceptable excuse for not following the stated policies and procedures.
2. A new academic consideration and flexibility in assessment policy is in effect starting September 2024. Students can miss one assessment per course per term without medical documentation. Faculty can designate one assessment per course for which students cannot self-attest.
3. Students must familiarize themselves with the “Rules of Conduct for Examinations” http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/exam/administration.pdf.
4. Cheating as an academic offence: Students are responsible for understanding what it means to “cheat.” The Department of Economics treats cheating incidents very seriously and will investigate any suspect behavior. Students found guilty will incur penalties that could include a failing grade or being barred from future registration in other Economics courses or programs. The University may impose further penalties such as suspension or expulsion.
5. Plagiarism: Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. When taking an idea/passage from another author, it must be acknowledged with quotation marks where appropriate and referenced with footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is an academic offence (see Scholastic Discipline for Undergraduate Students in the Western Calendar at http://westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_20).

Western University uses software to check for plagiarism and students may be required to electronically submit their work. Those found guilty will be penalized as noted in point 4.

6. It is a Department of Economics policy that NO assignments be dated, stamped or accepted by staff. Students must submit assignments to the instructor.
7. Appeals: University policies and procedures for appealing a mark can be found in the Student Academic Appeals section in the current Western Academic Calendar at: http://westerncalendar.uwo.ca/PolicyPages.cfm?Command=showCategory&PolicyCategoryID=1&SelectedCalendar=Live&ArchiveID=#Page_14. Please note the relevant deadlines.

Department of Economics procedures for appealing a mark can be found here: https://economics.uwo.ca/undergraduate/program_counselling/responsibilities_policies.html#appeals. The Department will not consider an appeal unless an attempt has been made to settle the matter with the instructor first. Students who remain dissatisfied with the outcome may proceed to submit an appeal to econugrd@uwo.ca. Please follow the instructions and use the appeal form shown in the above link.

8. Systematic adjustments of a class grade distribution (either up or down) can occur in Economics courses. The fact that grades have been adjusted is not grounds for an appeal.
9. ADD AND DROP DEADLINES:

- Deadline to ADD second term full or half course: January 14, 2025
- Deadline to DROP second term full or half course: March 31, 2025

Policy Regarding Makeup Tests and Final Examinations

Faculty of Social Science policy states that oversleeping or misreading an exam schedule is NOT grounds for a makeup. This rule applies to midterm and final exams in the Department of Economics.

Policies Regarding Academic Accommodation

- Academic accommodation will not be granted automatically on request. Students must demonstrate by documentation that there are compelling medical or compassionate grounds before academic accommodation will be considered. The Faculty of Social Science's policies on academic accommodation are found at https://counselling.ssc.uwo.ca/procedures/academic_consideration.html
- Accommodation for Students with Disabilities: Students with disabilities or accessibility challenges should work with Accessible Education (formerly SSD, see http://academicsupport.uwo.ca/accessible_education/index.html), which provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive testing. The accommodation policy can be found here: Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities.
- Rewriting Exams and Retroactive Reweighting are NOT Permitted: Students who proceed to write a test or examination must be prepared to accept the mark. Rewriting tests or examinations, or retroactive reweighting of marks, is not permitted. Students must also book travel arrangements AFTER final exam dates have been posted as they must not conflict with test or final exams.
- Unless medically incapable of doing so, students must notify their instructor prior to the test date or at least within 48 hours when requesting a makeup exam. Failure to follow this procedure may result in denial of academic accommodation and a grade of zero. Students should also set up an appointment as soon as possible to meet with their instructor. If the instructor is not available, send an email message to the instructor, copying the Undergraduate Coordinator at econugrd@uwo.ca. Notifying instructors of a missed exam does not automatically entitle students to a makeup.

- For medical illnesses, students may consult Student Health Services and request a Student Medical Certificate from the physician. If assessed by an off-campus doctor, students must obtain a certificate from his/her office at the time of the visit/assessment. Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is available here:
https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf
- Documentation for Accommodation: Individual instructors are not permitted to receive documentation directly from a student, whether in support of an application for consideration on medical grounds or for other reasons.
- Western University policy on Consideration for Student Absence is available here:
https://counselling.ssc.uwo.ca/procedures/probation_rtw/appeals.html
- Religious Accommodation: Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays and should give reasonable notice in writing, prior to the holiday, to the Instructor and an Academic Counsellor if their course requirements will be affected by a religious observance. Additional information is given in the 2024 Diversity Calendar available at <https://www.edi.uwo.ca/> (see bottom right of page).

Policy Regarding Class Attendance and Engagement: If the instructor deems a student's attendance or engagement in the class to be unsatisfactory, that student may be prohibited from writing the final examination. Examples of unsatisfactory class engagement include frequent absences from an in-person or synchronous online class, lack of assignment submissions, and inadequate use of online course materials. Instructors who intend to make use of this policy will notify the student in advance.

Statement on Gender-Based and Sexual Violence: Western is committed to reducing incidents of gender-based and sexual violence (GBSV) and providing compassionate support to anyone who is going through or has gone through these traumatic events. If you are experiencing or have experienced GBSV (either recently or in the past), you will find information about support services for survivors, including emergency contacts at the following website: Get Help. To connect with a case manager or set up an appointment, please contact support@uwo.ca.

Statement on Mental Health and Support Services: Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western <http://www.uwo.ca/uwocom/mentalhealth/> for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Statement on Remote Proctoring: While Western intends to hold most classes, mid-terms and finals in-person, the London-Middlesex Health unit may require western to teach in a remote format. If this occurs, all assessments will be done remotely and may involve the use of remote proctoring software (i.e., Proctorio, ProctorTrack). Instructors will provide information on the details should the need arise.
